Fear Management

Workshop

Workshop Overview

March 18

Protect International is pleased to present a Fear Management Workshop.

Managing the fear experience by potential victims of violence is an important and often overlooked task when conducting violence risk assessment and safety planning. If the level of fear experience by a potential victim is “too high”, “too low”, “too unstable” this could lead to increased risk and decreased safety. This workshop will: 1) discuss the nature of fear and the implication for risk and safety, and 2) provide information about strategies for managing fear and supporting victims.

Our Instructor

Dr. Kelly Watt is an internationally recognized expert, a prolific author, and an engaging presenter. She has been involved in developing, implementing, and evaluating risk assessment procedures around the world. She is passionate about providing evidence-based understanding, knowledge, and skills in assessing and managing risk for violence that professionals can apply in practice.

Fear Management

- Implications of victim fear for risk assessment and safety planning
